Wendy: Did you feel the shake last night?

Karen: Yes, I was too scared to sleep. My family all got up to watch the news report.

Wendy: The news said the center of the earthquake was in Hualien. People in Nantou, Taichung, Taoyuan, Taipei, Hsinchu, and Yunlin also felt it.

Karen: It shook at least 11 times.

Wendy: Luckily, no one got hurt in this earthquake.

Karen: By the way, do you know what we should do when we feel the earthquake?

Wendy: Yes, “Drop, Cover and Hold On” if we are in the house.

Karen: What do you mean?

Wendy: “Drop” means to drop to the floor. “Cover” means to take cover under a desk or table. “Hold On” means to hold on to the desk or the table. The more we know about how to protect ourselves, the less likely we would get hurt during the earthquake.

Karen: That’s right.
